

Acrotiche aggregata (Red Ground Berry)

A low, sprawling bush with stiff, pungent leaves to 30mm x 5mm, for sandy or rocky soils. Greenish-white flowers in winter-spring, often again in autumn, petals sparsely hairy. Bright red, edible fruit to 5mm, tastes sour and tangy, grows hidden underneath the foliage.

Type: Shrub to 1m
Aspect: Full sun
Soil: Adaptable
Habitat: Adaptable

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Birds
- Bush Tucker Plant
- Drought Tolerant
- Frost Tolerant