

Clausena brevistyla var. brevistyla (Clausena)

Uncommon attractive shrub to 6m in dry rainforests north from Imbil. Grows as an understorey tree in well developed rainforest. Mature fruit are edible. 5-petalled, white, perfumed 8mm flowers in spring. Spotted, pale pink to cream fruit to 10mm – sweet, aromatic, edible [aftertaste a little like orange peel].

Type: Small Tree to 6m
Aspect: Shade
Soil: Adaptable
Habitat: Dry Sclerophyll

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Birds
 - Butterflies
- Bush Tucker Tree
- Frost Tolerant