

Clausena smyrelliana (Smyrell's Clausena)

Evergreen shrub which is seriously endangered. The tree has dark green leaves to 10cm long, glossy on top surface and dull and lighter underneath. Lemon scented when crushed. Fruit is a white drupe. Originates from Maryborough. The edible fruit is said to have a citrus flavour and the crushed leaves smell of lemon.

Type: Tree to 6m
Aspect: Adaptable
Soil: Sandy
Habitat: Adaptable

Special features:

- Attracts –
  - Birds
- Bush Tucker
- Seriously Endangered