

Decaspermum humile (Silky Myrtle)

Small tree with brown, rough bark. Buds and young shoots whitish and silky. Crushed leaves aromatic. Leaves are opposite to 9cm long, tapering to a fine point, hairless above, paler below. Pendulous spikes of perfumed white/cream flowers in autumn to spring. Edible black fruit to 6mm.

Type: Tree to 8m
Aspect: Full Sun
Soil: Adaptable
Habitat: Rainforest

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Birds
- Bush Tucker Plant
- Frost Tolerant
- Fragrant Flowers
- Fragrant Foliage
- Shade Tree