

Erythrina vespertilio (Bat Wing Coral Tree)

Open thorny, deciduous tree with corky bark, on well-drained slopes. Bark has thick thorns. Flowers are bright red and pea shaped in November to December. Pods to 10cm, with 2 to 4 red seeds to 12mm. This plant was used in colonial medicine, leaves a reputed sedative.

Type: Tree to 10m
Aspect: Full Sun
Soil: Well-drained
Habitat: Dry Sclerophyll

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Birds
- Bush Medicine
- Drought Tolerant
- Frost Tolerant