

Flindersia australis (Crow's Ash)

Semi-deciduous tree to 35+ m, more common in drier rainforests. Smooth bark sheds in oval flakes leaving depressions. Leaves alternate or opposite, with 5-9 hairless leaflets, each to 13cm, paler below. White, 5-petalled flowers to 10mm, spring to summer. Woody claw-like seed capsules, covered in blunt spines, with 5 boat-shaped segments. Superb dance floor timber.

Type: Tree to 15+m
Aspect: Full/filtered Sun
Soil: Adaptable
Habitat: Rainforest but tolerates open forest

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Butterflies
- Clay Tolerant
- Drought Tolerant
- Frost Tolerant
- Timber Tree
- Shade Tree