

Pipturis argentus (Native Mulberry)

Straggly shrub. The male and female plants are separate and botanically referred to as dioecious. White flowers in small clusters in January to June. Small, white fruit up to 6mm.

Type: Shrub to 6m
Aspect: Part Shade
Soil: Fertile, Moist
Habitat: Coastal

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Birds
 - Butterflies
 - Insects
- Bush Tucker
- Coastal Plant
- Screening Plant