

Plumbago zeylanica (Native Plumbago)

Scrambling twiggy shrub to 1m, with ridged stems, of drier rainforests. Leaves alternate, to 9cm x 4 cm. Flowers white or pale mauve, to 20mm, on a spike, spring to autumn. Young twigs clothed in sticky glands. Fast growing plant. After flowering, the plants should be cut back to keep them growing vigorously.

Type: Shrub to 1m
Aspect: Full Sun/Shade
Soil: Well-drained
Habitat: Dry Sclerophyll

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Birds
 - Butterflies
- Bush Medicine
- Drought Tolerant