

Wodyetia bifurcata (Foxtail Palm)

The palm trunk is smooth, thin, and self-cleaning. It has a closely ringed, dark grey to light gray color which slowly turns more and more white. The crownshaft of the foxtail palm is light to bright green and slightly swollen at the base. White flowers. Fruits are 5cm long, olive green to green in the early stages, orange red when ripe.

- Type: Palm to 10m
Aspect: Full Sun/Part Shade
Soil: Adaptable/Well-drained/Moist
Habitat: Tropical Rainforest

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Birds
 - Frogs
 - Geckos, Skinks
- Drought Tolerant
- Frost Tolerant
- Wind Tolerant

